

Key Advisors CEO business advisory board brings together business owners who share common business challenges, as well as a desire to deepen their business knowledge and expertise.

Key Advisors is what CEOs of mid-sized companies are asking for:

- A confidential environment to discuss tough business problems
- Guidance from peer CEOs on company direction
- Exposure to thought leaders and best business practices
- Real-time issue consulting support
- More accountability to help drive results

Key Advisors is a monthly meeting, professionally facilitated by Ted Miller, DataKey's founder, and the team of experienced senior consultants.

Key Advisors work on their business:

Apply relevant business topics and best practice from thought leaders. Conduct an annual business assessment to see where improvement is most needed. Set goals for your business, and for yourself. Be prepared for a quarterly review to keep your priorities in focus and on track. Leverage insight from confidential information exchanges with your peers. Access the knowledge and expertise of DataKey to meet your business objectives.

Find solutions to tough challenges; identify, define and share best practices among a group of non-competitive and like-sized CEOs.

We look forward to you joining this high-powered CEO group.
